IN THIS GUIDE
Old Royal Naval College

ON SCREEN

The familiar brick facade stands beside Greenwich Park. On screen, it is the Bridgertons' residence amid London high society.

ON YOUR VISIT

Inside is The Wernher Collection. Treat the museum as a separate visit: the home's screen interiors were assembled from other locations and sets.

COURTYARDS AND COLONNADES

London’s streets

Old Royal Naval College

One of the Old Royal Naval College’s courtyards.

ALSO IN THE GUIDE

Hampton Court Palace

ON SCREEN

In season two, the college grounds became a market and a street near the Featherington home. Look for recognisable spaces among the courtyards and colonnades.

ON YOUR VISIT

Begin with a walk around the grounds. Plan the Painted Hall and themed tours separately: they have their own tickets and opening hours.

GARDENS AND COURTYARDS

At Queen Charlotte's

Hampton Court Palace

Privy Garden, Hampton Court Palace.

Hampton Court

ON SCREEN

The Privy Garden plays the garden of Queen Charlotte's palace. Master Carpenter's Court became Chancery Lane, with the facade of Lady Whistledown's printer.

ON YOUR VISIT

This is a large palace complex. If visiting for the series, mark the relevant gardens and courtyards on the palace map beforehand; a standard Tudor tour follows a different story.

IN THIS GUIDE
Ham House and Garden

ON SCREEN

Syon Park's Great Conservatory appears at the first ball of season two. Anthony and Kate meet again here, this time in society.

ON YOUR VISIT

Choose seasonal dates on Syon Park's website. Admission to the gardens and Great Conservatory may differ from admission to the house.

HOUSE AND GARDEN · SEASON 4

Benedict’s story

Ham House and Garden

Ham House’s main facade. Archive photograph.

ALSO IN THE GUIDE

Osterley Park and House

ON SCREEN

Ham House played several residences in season four, including My Cottage. Filming also took place in the historic kitchen and garden.

ON YOUR VISIT

Combine the house with a garden walk. Check house and grounds hours separately: their seasonal schedules may differ.

HOUSE AND GARDEN · SEASONS 3–4

An evening by the columns

Osterley Park and House

6

Osterley's main house. The Garden House is in the garden.

West London

ON SCREEN

Osterley hosted the Full Moon Ball in season three. In season four, its Garden House became part of Benedict and Sophie's story.

ON YOUR VISIT

You need garden access to find the Garden House. Do not confuse it with the main house in the photograph; check house, park and garden admission separately.

FILMED FACADE

Lady Danbury’s home

The Holburne Museum

The Holburne Museum facade from Great Pulteney Street.

IN THIS GUIDE
No. 1 Royal Crescent

ON SCREEN

The museum’s exterior plays Lady Danbury’s home. Look for this grand facade to recognise the location from the series.

ON YOUR VISIT

There is an art museum inside. Leave time for its collection if you wish, then continue into nearby Sydney Gardens as an optional extension.

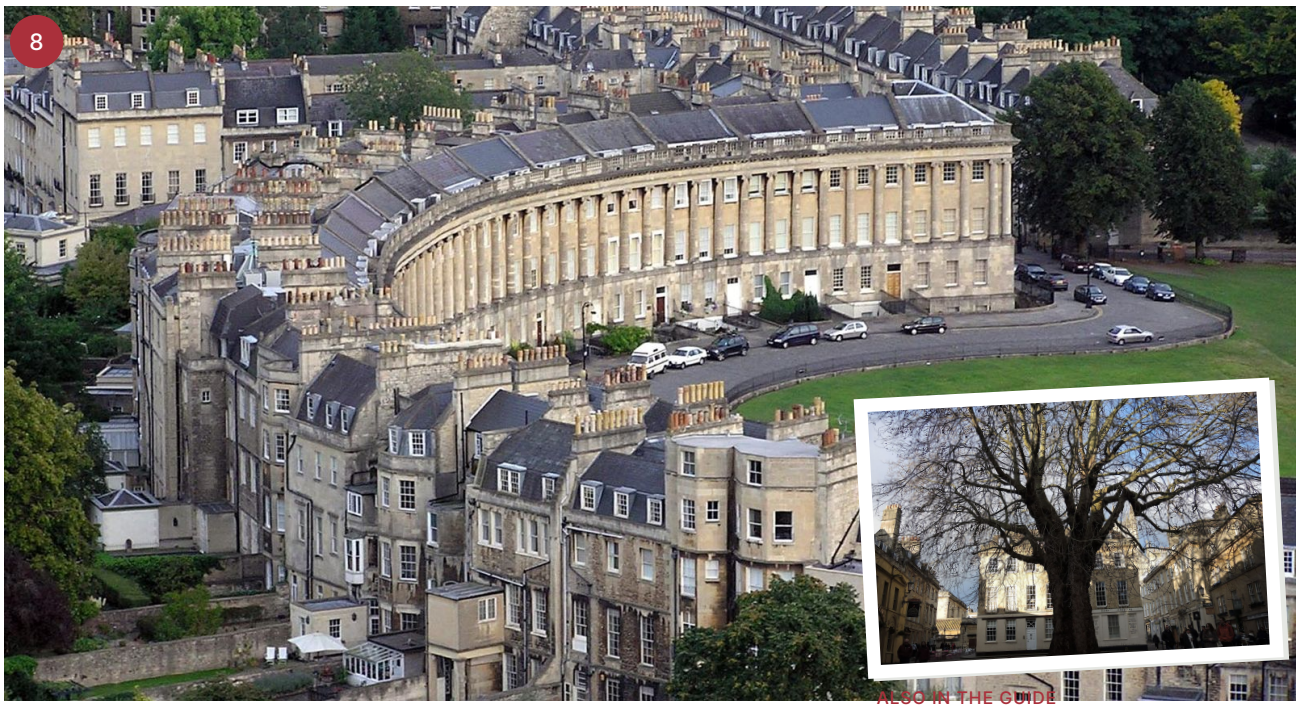
FILMED FACADE

The Featherington home

No. 1 Royal Crescent



Royal Crescent panorama. No. 1 is at the end of the curve.

ALSO IN THE GUIDE

Abbey Green / The Abbey Deli

ON SCREEN

The exterior of No. 1 Royal Crescent played the Featherington home. The wider curve of Royal Crescent also appears in the series.

ON YOUR VISIT

No. 1 contains a museum of Georgian Bath life. Treat the facade as one stop and add the museum separately, according to its opening calendar.

MODISTE SHOP · SEASONS 1–2

At Madame Delacroix’s

Abbey Green / The Abbey Deli

Abbey Green in Bath. General view of the square.
Bath

ON SCREEN

The Abbey Deli on Abbey Green played the Modiste shop. Exterior and interior scenes were filmed here in the first two seasons.

ON YOUR VISIT

Visit the square and find the Deli on the map. It is a real working business, so entry and ordering follow its current arrangements.

IN THIS GUIDE
Ranger's House

ON SCREEN

Bath Street's colonnades were used for street scenes. Here you can recognise the architecture without a separate museum visit.

ON YOUR VISIT

Walk along the street, looking at the columns and views through the passages. Add it between Royal Crescent and Abbey Green in your central Bath route.

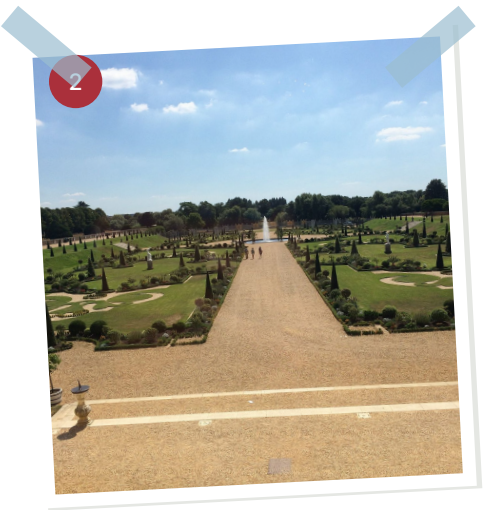
A few things worth knowing

Ranger's House



Hampton Court Palace

Facades and interiors are separate

Ranger's House, the Holburne and No. 1 Royal Crescent are recognisable outside. A museum ticket does not promise every room seen in the series.

London spans many neighbourhoods

Greenwich has its own walk. Plan Hampton Court, Syon, Ham House and Osterley as separate outings, checking travel times.

Sets do not stay forever

Wisteria, floral arches, signs and lighting change for filming. Compare the architecture and layout rather than expecting an exact recreation.

Check before heading out

Open 'Plan a visit': house, garden, conservatory and individual-room calendars may differ. Then check transport and the weather.

Checked on 31 October 2026. Prices and fixed opening times are not locked into this guide: follow official links for current conditions. Photographs are archival views of real places, not production stills.
