Classic day trips

BATH / ROYAL CRESCENT

Seven Sisters · Sussex

01 · Oxford

Colleges, courtyards associated with the Harry Potter films, and the Ashmolean Museum. Choose a few stops and explore on foot. Rail starting points: Paddington or Marylebone; check the specific service.

02 · Cambridge

Punts on the Cam, meadows and historic courts. A good city for a slower day outdoors. Rail starting points: King's Cross or Liverpool Street.

03 · Brighton

The sea, pier, vintage shops in the Lanes and the Royal Pavilion. A quick change of scenery by the water. Rail starting points: Victoria or London Bridge.

04 · Canterbury

The cathedral, cobbled streets and River Stour make a compact historic outing. Rail starting points: St Pancras or Victoria; check which Canterbury station suits your route.

05 · Bath

Roman history, Georgian crescents and warm-coloured stone. Choose your museum tickets separately from a city walk. Rail starting point: Paddington to Bath Spa.

06 · Windsor

Windsor Castle, the Long Walk and the Thames. The castle is a separate ticketed visit. Rail options include Waterloo, or Paddington with a change.

07 · Seven Sisters & Seaford

White cliffs, sea air and coastal walking. Pick a manageable route; cliff paths can be strenuous and exposed. Rail destination: Seaford with an appropriate connection. Keep back from cliff edges.

08 · Whitstable

An oyster-town atmosphere, beach huts and sunsets over the sea. A small coastal destination for an unhurried visit. Rail starting points include Victoria and St Pancras; check your service.

09 · St Albans

Roman Verulamium, the cathedral and a lake-side park. A nearby day out that is easy to overlook. Rail route: St Pancras to St Albans City.

Compare advance and off-peak tickets for your actual trains: restrictions vary, so do not assume every fare becomes off-peak at 09:30. A Railcard may help if you are eligible and the saving suits your trips. Always check the return service, especially from coastal towns.

The original short guide used approximate journey times; this English edition leaves times out because routes, changes and engineering work vary. Plan using nationalrail.co.uk and your operator's website. Admission, food and transport are separate.
