TELL ME LONDON

31 IDEAS

A MONTH TO MAKE YOUR OWN

LONDON / KEW GARDENS

31 IDEAS | ONE CITY | YOUR CHOICE

TELL ME LONDON / ENGLISH EDITION

PHOTO: Tell Me London archive

The first half

LONDON / KEW GARDENS

Evening on the Thames

01 · Explore an unfamiliar neighbourhood on foot, without a strict goal

02 · A free museum after work, on an opening day that suits

03 · Coffee by the water on the South Bank

04 · A weekend market and its atmosphere

05 · A park walk with an audiobook

06 · Second-hand bookshops around Charing Cross Road

07 · A picnic in Hyde Park or St James's Park

08 · Sunset on Primrose Hill

09 · Look for a free lunchtime church concert

10 · Sky Garden with a free admission booking

11 · A countryside walk reached by train

12 · A late-opening evening at Tate, when scheduled

13 · The canal from Little Venice towards Camden

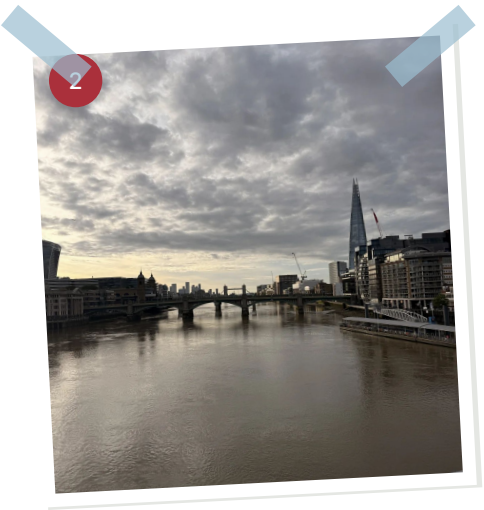
14 · A bookshop browse at Daunt Books, then tea nearby

15 · A day trip to Brighton or Oxford

Tell Me London archive

The second half

LONDON / KEW GARDENS



Evening on the Thames

16 · Greenwich Park and the meridian story; Observatory admission is separate

17 · A self-guided street-art walk in Shoreditch

18 · An outdoor film screening in season

19 · Hear Sunday bells or attend a service respectfully

20 · Flowers on Columbia Road

21 · Borough Market and a walk through the City

22 · A run club or park yoga session

23 · A lecture or event found on Eventbrite

24 · A new cafe in a neighbourhood you do not know

25 · Richmond Park and its deer, viewed from a distance

26 · Board games at a bar

27 · Choose a museum: the V&A or Natural History Museum

28 · A sunset walk over London's bridges

29 · A pub quiz with friends

30 · Kew Gardens with a ticket, or Kyoto Garden in Holland Park

31 · Look back on the month over coffee

Tell Me London archive

A menu, not a deadline

LONDON / KEW GARDENS

Evening on the Thames

There is no need to fit everything in. Pick a couple of days each week and the month starts to feel less like one long Monday. Print it for the fridge or save it to your phone.

Some ideas require tickets, bookings or seasonal opening dates. Check the venue before setting off. Look in our Telegram announcements for current group outings; the paid Club membership is still in preparation.

Tell Me London archive